ABOUT CPI TRAINING

Overview

Founded in 2009 in Alberta, Canada, and expanding to Ghana in 2017, CPI Training is a premier project management firm focused on education and National Capacity Building in developing countries. With offices in Canada (Sherwood Park, Alberta, and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan), the USA, Ghana, and various other countries, CPI Training delivers impactful educational solutions globally.

Core Competencies

CPI Training excels in creating bespoke educational programs through an open-source network model, comprising over 1,000 instructors, curriculum developers, and project managers worldwide. Our online learning platform (LMS) offers over 450 courses and assessments, tracking competencies and learning outcomes in multiple languages. Our esteemed team includes members from top institutions such as the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology (NAIT), Saskatchewan Polytechnic, George Brown College, Idaho State University, Virginia Tech, Abu Dhabi Polytechnic, and Australia's TAFE colleges. CPI Training tailors its programs to meet the specific needs of clients in the oil and gas, mining, power, manufacturing, and affiliated industries.

Motto:* CPIT – Elevating Industry Excellence through Customized Training and Global Certification.

Key Achievements

Project Leadership:* Under the leadership of Terry Drabiuk, a seasoned international project manager, CPI Training has managed projects ranging from $1 million to multi-billion-dollar initiatives, including a $1.5 billion project in Canada.

Partnership with Newmont Mines Ghana:* For over a decade, CPI Training has supported Newmont Mines Ghana by developing training centers with skilled instructors, advanced lab equipment, and specialized curricula in welding, instrumentation, electrical, and mechanical maintenance. We have provided a range of training programs for employees and project-affected communities.

National Capacity Building in Ghana:* In 2016, CPI Training conducted a comprehensive "Needs Assessment of the TVET System in Ghana," funded by Global Affairs Canada (GAC). This assessment informed key stakeholders and led to initiatives addressing skills gaps in the extractive and allied sectors in Ghana.

Customized Industrial Trades Training Programs:* We have implemented a range of industrial trades training programs in Ghana and Canada for sectors including oil and gas, mining, and power. Our clients include Newmont, MODEC, VRA, PC, GAC, Takoradi Gas, Yinson, Greenline Logistics, Seaweld, among others.

Commitment to Excellence

CPI Training is dedicated to delivering world-class educational solutions and fostering national capacity building through strategic partnerships, cutting-edge training programs, and innovative project management. Our expertise and commitment to excellence drive sustainable development and skill enhancement in the regions we serve.

Partner with CPI Training to elevate industry standards and achieve unparalleled success.
